Hot Stone Therapy

Hot Stone Sessions:

1 1/2 hour - $135

Thermal therapy, as the name suggests, combine the benefits of massage with the careful application of heat. The Bath House is pleased to offer Hot Stone Therapy as another way for our clients to experience the healing benefits of massage.

Hot Stone Therapy involves the use of basalt rocks for thermal stimulus. Heated stones of various shapes and sizes are used. Hot Stone massage practitioners keep the hot, black stones warm (140 degrees) in the healing spring water of Berkeley Springs. The stones are used to address different healing aspects. The actual placement of the stones is done in rhythm with the client's breathing pattern and a sheet or towel is used against the body to prevent the risk of burn.

The massage itself can involve a variety of treatments including deep tissue, Craniosacral and/or basic Swedish. Each stone has role in the session; some are meant more for trigger point work, others focus on balancing energy.

Pedicure

Pedicure - $45

Treat your feet to a soak in the healing waters of Berkeley Springs and then show them off with a touch of color!
